

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT BY OUR STUDENTS CONGRATULATIONS!!

Students of NIT Calicut bagged Young Researcher Award constituted by Springer

Students of NIT Calicut presented their Research work at the 16th International Conference on Humanizing Work and Work Environment (HWWE) 2018 during 14 -16 December 2018, Thiruvananthapuram, India and bagged the following awards constituted by Springer:

1. Young Researcher Award (First Prize) in the Undergraduate category with a gift voucher of 200USD and
2. Young Researcher Award (Second prize) in the Postgraduate category with a gift voucher of 150USD.

The International Conference on Humanizing Work and Work Environment conference is one of the important annual events in the field of Human Factors and Ergonomics. HWWE serves as a major forum for the exchange of ideas concerning the improvement in work and work environment.

This conference offered a platform for researchers, practitioners, manufacturers and academicians to discuss the ongoing research across the world and help exchange ideas in addressing work related issues faced by human beings in all facets of daily activities. A total of 166 papers were selected for presentation in the 16th edition of the conference. HWWE 2018 was hosted at College of Engineering Trivandrum (CET).

Rahul Karumuri (left) and Shashank Kappagalmath (right)

B.Tech Production Engineering (UG category),
NIT Calicut

Baradwaj K C

M.Tech Industrial Engineering &
Management (PG category),
NIT Calicut